OHIO STATE HUMBLLED BY WARRIORS FROM MICHIGAN

THIRTEENTH CLASH BETWEEN TWO TEAMS RESULTS IN VICTORY FOR SCRAPPY INVADERS
FROM THE NORTH.

MICHIGAN LINE IS WONDER

Craig, Thomson and Allmendinger are Stars of Contest Marked by Good Line Work.

The thirteenth and last clash for some time to come of the Michigan and Ohio State University football teams has passed into history without the Buckeye rooters realizing their aim of fifteen years of striving.

Since 1897, when the two elevens first faced each other on the chalked green, and since the Maize and Blue warriors administered the first of a string of shutouts to the Ohio players, no football season has passed without hope filling the hearts of the Buckeyes of punishing the Wolverines, and getting sweet revenge to wipe out previous humiliations. At no time have they been able to score over six points in any single contest against Michigan, and the succession of defeats increased their desire for a victory as the seasons came and went.

Next year they become active members of the "great" Western Conference, forbidden ground for Michigan invaders, and will be out of the reach of the Wolverines for good. O. S. U. has put two good teams into the field each year since the initial bout, but Michigan has had better ones; both teams having always been on the most friendly terms for fifteen years and their annual battles having been events to look forward to.

Victory is Not a Hard One.

As in most of the previous clashes, Ohio State was easy for the Wolverines yesterday, and the thing that contributed most to her defeat was the stonewall showing of the Michigan line. Outplayed at all stages, despite the small score, the Buckeyes appeared dangerous but once during the game, approaching the Wolverine goal near enough to attempt drop kicks at two different times in the last quarter, but not near enough to make them good. Had the forward passes which were attempted by Michigan been successful even in part, the score would have been decidedly larger, but luck in this instance was against them. When it did look favorably upon them, it resulted in points though, as revealed by the capture of a fumbled ball by "Jimmy" Craig. His subsequent run of forty yards with it in Sam White style, and the six points that it netted, can be ascribed to a different element.

Although the first score came in this fashion, the next was only acquired by consistent hammering at the Buckeye line, and pushing the ball down the field slowly but surely for fifty yards and the goal. Within a few yards of the line, Captain Thomson was sent over for the clinching touchdown, and Paterson kicked his second goal. This happened early in the fourth quarter and ended the scoring for both teams. Honors for the final period of play can be divided equally by the teams, the first going to the Wolverine players; the final dangerous minutes to their opponents when they tried to score with drop-kicks.

Michigan Line Holds Well.

The secret of the outcome of yesterday's game is told in a few words. The Michigan line was impregnable, composed of the units Allmendinger, Paterson, Quinn and the others, and the Ohio men rebounded when they bucked it. Allmendinger at right guard played the greatest game of his career and was Michigan's bright and shining star of the conflict, although Craig, Paterson, McHale, and Thomson came in for their share of glory. Hughitt showed his value to the team by intercepting Ohio's forward passes when they appeared dangerous, and his offensive playing was creditable.

THE WEATHER MAN

An incident approaching the intensely dramatic occurred when Ryan of Ohio was laid out and carried from the gridiron. Full of fight before the accident, this forced removal from the fray broke him down, and he left the field shrouding his face in his blanket, ashamed to look at the curious but sympathetic throng. The stands cheered loud and long, both for him and for Raymond who was also injured. It is feared that the latter's injury will result seriously, as the first examination revealed a possible concussion of the brain.

Ohio State Uses Many Subs.

Yost is satisfied with the showing of his charges and he rates the O. S. U. team as being above the average. Richards of Ohio State was forced to make use of the biggest part of his entire squad, sending in men at the rate of one every two minutes when the Wolverines' advance looked menacing.

PLAN NOVEL SUNDAY PROGRAMS.

Interesting Musical Numbers Provided For Union Members Today.

Faculty and students will meet together at the Michigan Union this afternoon at the usual weekly gathering. The committee in charge of the Sunday programs has decided to endeavor to obtain prominent men to address the assembly every week and hopes to start the series today with a talk from President W. L. Crawford, of Allegheny College, who will be in Ann Arbor over Sunday.

Vocal music by Bruce Bromley and other musical numbers will be special features of the program, which will begin promptly at 3:00 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

CONSOLIDATION OF UNIONS IS NOT CONSIDERED HERE.

Letter on Subject Received Here But No Action is Taken.

When asked yesterday in regard to the proposed consolidation of the university unions of the country, President Edward G. Kemp of the Michigan Union stated that the matter had not been given much consideration by the local Union authorities. A letter was received here some time ago from the Indiana Union which is boosting the idea, but the proposal was not discussed at length, it being referred to a committee by the board of directors of the Union at its last meeting.

Indiana Union officials are enthusiastic about the matter of uniting the general organizations of American colleges. At a monster mass meeting held at the Hoosier institution last week, the consolidation idea was unanimously favored, and plans were made whereby the sentiment of other colleges on the matter might be learned.

DR. FRENCH WILL CONTINUE GREEK AND HEBREW CLASSES

Although Prof. Craig will not personally conduct any more classes this semester, the classes in Hebrew and Hellenistic Greek will be conducted by Dr. Leslie French until the former's return. They will recommence this week at the usual time and place. The other courses by Prof. Craig have been withdrawn and students enrolled in these have the privilege of changing to other courses without penalty.

YEARLING MEN DISPLAY POOR FORM IN GAME

FIRST-YEAR ELEVEN IS UNABLE TO WORK TOGETHER RESULTING IN A WALKAWAY FOR SCRAPPY HILLSDALE TEAM.

SCORE OF FARCE IS 32 TO 6

Game Replete With Fumbles, Disputes, and General Absence of Organized Work.

Offsetting the gladsome news of the shut-out of the Buckeyes by the Varsity at Columbus, the outcome of the Freshmen-Hillsdale scrap looms up ominously in the foreground as a dark, dank, and subterranean message from the diminutive Indian rubber god of things as they ought not to be. Weird, fantastic, and puzzling are the adjectives best suited for an attempted description of the affair, but in their superlative degree they are inadequate to do justice to yesterday's performance at Ferry field. The score, All-fresh 6, Hillsdale 32, does not tell the story.

For a brief period in the first act the teams appeared evenly matched and gave promise of putting up a good exhibition. The beefy first-year line suddenly weakened against the plunges of the Hillsdale backfield and once broken it seemed impossible to collect and assemble the pieces. After the first quarter the visitors' backfield men pushed each other through the yearling line, or skirted its ends in a consistent manner.

Most of Hillsdale's points and gains were secured in the last half of the game and it seemed as if the first-year men became weaker as the contest went along. Unable to head the visitors off, the freshmen were forced to allow Harwood, Beck, and Barber to make the gains that later resulted in scores, while their own backfield could not gain consistently when the ball was in their keeping.

The game was replete with fumbles, squabbling, and roughness, one man being put out for displaying the latter trait while the contest itself was delayed frequently on account of discussions concerning details.

The lineup:

FEW ELECTORS PICK MEN FOR CLASS OFFICES

AS A RESULT OF MAJORITY RULE
AND TIE VOTE, THREE CLASSES
FAIL TO PICK PRESIDENTS IN ANNUAL ELECTIONS.

"PEANUT POLITICS" ABSENT

Despite Light Vote Cast, the Race for Each Class Office is Unusually Close.

Light voting and hotly contested races were the features of the various class elections held yesterday morning. In the senior literary class, Harold Abbott and Selden Dickinson were tied for the office of class president, while in the senior medic and junior law classes no candidate polled enough votes to entitle him to the office, so in these three classes new elections will be held sometime during the week.

In no class was the vote large enough to excite comment, and the absence of so-called "peanut politics" was conspicuous.

Yesterday's results follow:

Senior lits: president, Harold Abbott and Selden Dickinson tied; vice-president, Ruth Davis; secretary, Elaine Shields; treasurer, E. R. Johnston; oratorical delegate, J. Primrose; football manager, M. Foote; baseball manager, Bernard Fallon; girls' basketball manager, E. Ehrhorn; basketball manager, C. Nicholson; track manager, R. Melton.

Senior medics: C. S. Kennedy and C. J. Wood did not receive enough votes to be elected president and will be voted on later; vice-president, Joe Funderburgh; secretary, R. W. McGeech; treasurer, G. H. Bahlman; football manager, F. E. Sayers; basketball manager, D. W. Crankshaw; baseball manager, Reye; track manager, Siveke; medical representatives, W. R. McClure and J. S. Wendel.

Junior laws: vice-president, J. R. Ober; secretary, A. F. Lamey; treasurer, J. Jamieson; sergeant-at-arms, L. Storkan; baseball manager, J. T. Witherow; track manager, F. J. Hoffmeister; basketball manager, F. J. Findlay; oratorical delegate, C. E. Phillips.

Soph engineers: president, W. W. Candler; vice-president, G. D. Angle; secretary, P. H. Middleitch; treasurer, K. Baxter; basketball manager, H. Parsons; track manager, M. A. Hadden.

All the freshman classes will hold their elections next Saturday morning, except the fresh dents who elect tomorrow morning from 9:00 to 12:00 o'clock. The junior and soph lits, the soph engineers and the soph medics, will also elect on Saturday morning, while the senior dents will hold their election tomorrow morning from 10:00 to 12:00 o'clock.

J-LAW PRESIDENT WILL BE SELECTED AT LATER DATE.

Another election will be held for the office of junior law president. In the election yesterday morning, of the three candidates for the office, Ralph Snyder and Edward Haislys ran neck and neck, neither obtaining a majority of votes. The date of the special election has not yet been decided.

CROWD JOURNEYS SOUTH FOR GAME

Early Rising Hour Does Not Prevent 627 Local Enthusiasts From Making Trip.

SPECIAL TWENTY MINUTES LATE

Loud sounding alarm clocks were heard through all Ann Arbor yesterday morning about 6:00 o'clock, as 627 students, of both sexes, rose sleepily to garb themselves and hasten to the Ann Arbor railroad station.

Luckily for the sake of some bed-loving students, the special was delayed 20 minutes, while the station master and one assistant tried to sell tickets to the 127 that had put off their purchase until the latest moment possible. These last had opened their eyes early, and seeing the signs of a pleasant day had rapidly made up their minds to swell the host of Michigan rooters bound for Columbus.

Out on the platform a good-natured mob, its color scheme enlivened by the bright autumnal tints of feminine dress, was calling loudly for the train to start. Finally all were in possession of their $2 slips and at 7:20 the conductor swung aboard, giving the signal for the ten carloads of cheering students to proceed on their way to the O. S. U. battle-field.

ELECTION TIE-UPS.

Several classes will again have to resort to new elections because of the operation of the ruling which says that a man must have a majority over the rest of the field to return him a winner. This is a nuisance from the standpoint of the voter and the candidate alike.

It would seem that two candidates for one office should be plenty. Requiring a majority where five candidates are running, as was the case in the senior medic race for the presidency yesterday, is absurd. Three candidates for any office under the same ruling is not feasible, as was demonstrated in the junior law and senior lit elections.

Every class should either adopt the direct primary, eliminating down to two candidates for each office, or abolish the majority requirement. Until all class elections are put on the same basis as elections to the student council, a change from a majority to a plurality requirement would be the most practicable.

GARGOYLE WILL BE OUT FRIDAY

Difficulty Experienced in Obtaining Material for Fall Number.

The initial issue of the Gargoyle will appear on Friday, October 25. It will be known as the freshman number, and will concern itself largely with the first-year men.

A feature of this year's Gargoyle will be the appearance each month of an article under the caption "Sophomore Rhetoric Themes." The terms of a prize contest for stories, poems, and drawings, will also be announced in the October number.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced so far in getting material, the appearance of this month's number being delayed on that account.

Competition still continues for vacancies on the Gargoyle staff, the only editorial positions now permanently filled being as follows: Harold McGee, managing editor; "Bill" Fanning, art editor; and Karl Matthews, humor editor.

GAME DOES NOT INTERFERE WITH WEEKLY UNION DANCE

Despite the large number of students out of the city yesterday, nearly 100 couples attended the regular weekly membership dance at the Union last evening. The chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Aigler and Prof. and Mrs. C. J. Thlden.

RUNNERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF FINE WEATHER TO WORK OUT.

Fall is usually held to be the exclusive property of the football men, but every afternoon when the weather is fair, a few white clad forms may be seen jogging around the cinder track encircling the Varsity football field. Capt. Haff, Bond, Seward and Kohler are a quartet of last year's stars, who are taking advantage of the fresh air practice to work out the stiffness in preparation for this winter's indoor season. Monetta, a freshman, winner of the century dash at the last invitation meet here, is also working out.

1916 FRESHMEN ARE HUSKY LOT

Physical Condition Better Than That of Last Year's Class.

As far as can be determined at this time, the measurements and physical condition of the class of 1916 show a small gain over last year's new-comers. Among those who have been examined, Dr. May has found several who give promise of providing good material for the track team.

The freshmen are much more prompt in enrolling in gym classes than those of last year. The classes on Mondays and Fridays at 3:15 and 4:15, and the class that meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4:15, are already filled. All freshmen who have not yet enrolled should do so during the next week.

WILL PASS ON MINOR SPORTS.

Regents Are to Consider Petition for Appropriation.

The fate of a petition which is now in the hands of the board of regents in favor of an appropriation for minor sports—wrestling, fencing and boxing, will probably determine the extent of those sports this winter.

Last spring several hundred students and members of the faculty petitioned the Athletic association to make provision for the furtherance of indoor sports. The executive board of the Athletic association ruled that this would come under the supervision of Dr. George May, the director of Waterman gymnasium, and accordingly turned it over to him. Dr. May laid it before the regents, who considered it at their last meeting and referred it to a committee.

Pending action of the board, enthusiasts of the indoor games have made no plans for a repetition of the various cup contests held last winter.

WOODCHOPPERS WILL HOLD ANNUAL CAMP FIRE FRIDAY.

Local "woodchoppers" and prospective enemies of the devastators of our forest reserves will inaugurate the Foresters' social year with the annual camp fire in Cascade Glen on Friday evening, October 25. All foresters, particularly first year men are invited to attend and toast their feet and marshmallows at the "blaze." Tickets may be obtained from members of the various classes. Watch the bulletin boards.

COULDN'T STAND DIRT. ALARM CLOCKS, OR CATS.

Those who have charge of the housing of first year women are the recipients of various and amusing letters, from applicants all over the country. According to the new arrangement, room-mates are selected by correspondence, and the questions asked regarding the likes and habits of prospective companions, are highly entertaining. So far, however, no communication has excelled the letter of an exacting young lady, who, a few years ago wrote to the dean asking for a room in a house where there was neither filth, disease, gas-stove, alarm clock, nor cats.

'TIS EVER WELL TO BE PREPARED

Did you see him? No? What a pity! For, indeed, he is the rarest of rare birds—and the first to don winter plumage. Friday it was, that the dear chick, only three weeks distant from the shadow of protecting maternal wings, ventured courageously abroad, right in the middle of a dangerous, cold-inducing drizzle. But was he foolhardy? Was he unmindful of the thousand tender solicitations, the loving warnings, poured into his ears upon his departure from the home nest? Not he!

And so it was that when myriads of sticky, autumn-tinted leaves, loosened by the lugubrious rain, fell slobberingly upon the cement walks, and all signs seemed to say that winter might happen along in a month or so,—so it was that he, fearful lest he be taken unawares and stricken down with some dread malady, walked rapidly across the campus, looking furtively about for predatory microbes. Perched upon his precious pate, pointing jauntily heavenward, but slowly wilting in the warm rain, was a fresh toque.

UNIVERSITY SENATE TO GIVE ANNUAL RECEPTION OCT. 29.

Following a custom which has existed for a number of years, the University Senate will give its annual reception in Barbour gymnasium, October 29, in honor of all new members of the faculty.

Prof. W. H. Wait has been appointed as general chairman. The department committees follow: literary, Professors M. P. Tilley, U. B. Phillips and G. Bonner; law, E. C. Goddard and E. Holbrook; engineering, C. J. Tilden, C. L. de Mural; pharmacy, A. B. Stevens; medical, A. M. Barrett and R. Peterson; homeopathic, D. B. Smith; dental, R. W. Bunting.

Dean Vaughan to Lecture to Freshmen

"The Hygiene of Student Life" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Dean V. C. Vaughan on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27, at 4:00 o'clock in Sarah Caswell Angell hall. It will be open to all first year men and women.

PREPARING TO WRITE NEW PLAY.

Avery Hopwood, '05, Visits Ann Arbor in Search of Dramatic Material.

Secluding himself within the confines of Ann Arbor, Avery Hopwood, '05, who has made himself well known throughout the country as a playwright, is getting together material for a new play.

Among Hopwood's productions, which have been staged with success, may be mentioned "Seven Days," written in conjunction with Mary Roberts Reinhart, "Julia Forgot," and "Nobody's Widow." One recently completed, "Somewhere Else," will be produced in New York next December.

Whether the new play will concern itself with Ann Arbor or college life, has not yet been revealed, the purpose of Mr. Hopwood's visit being evidently only to seek rest. It is possible, however, that he may consent to lecture before some of the rhetoric classes.

While attending the university, Mr. Hopwood was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and was well known on the campus.

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN COMING GERMAN PRODUCTION

Judging from the advance seat sale great interest is being taken in the coming production of Anzengruber's "Der G'wissenwurm," the play which will be presented by the Munich Volk-players at the Whitney Theater, Wednesday, October 30. Tickets may be reserved at room 205 University hall, daily, except Saturday, at 4:00 p. m.

Interpretative lectures on the play will be given this week by Professor J. W. Scholl. The object of these lectures is to acquaint those who have not had an opportunity to read the play with the action and main points of Anzengruber's comedy. The time and place of the lectures will be announced later.

The Holy Land and the orient together with a wonderful Bible exposition and portrayal is brought to the city in a wonderful scenic display by the production known as The Land of the Cross. Do not forget the dates—Oct. 23, 24, 25, and 26. It is the only Bible display that has multiplied its audience by six in as many days.

A FRESHMAN? OF COURSE HE IS!

He is a freshman. Principally, because this wouldn't be a good story if he weren't; and incidentally because this is his first year in the university. His name is Freddie. Principally, because that name appeals to your imagination; and incidentally, again, because that is his name.

Being a dutiful little freshman, Freddie appeared at the rush. He wore, in harmony with his inexperience of rushes, only a flimsy old shirt between himself and the blood curdling yells of the sophomores. As the festivities began, Freddie's shirt disappeared almost as quickly as his courage.

Becoming peeved at the rude way in which he was treated, our hero stuck his naughty little doubled-up hand in a sophomore's eyes. His new acquaintance returned the greeting by grabbing a hand full of cuticle off Freddie's neck, taking with it a life long companion of Freddie's, a mole which had long served him as a collar button.

The next day Freddie's neck was sore. Today it was very painful, and he told his upperclass friend from the old home town about it. Together they hit the trail for the university hospital.

Arriving at their destination, the upperclassman steered his charge into the office and arranged for an examination of the freshman—a "dent," by the way. The victim was led into a gruesome chamber and confronted by an interne (I don't know what they are, either, Genevieve).

The torturer was one of these savage looking seniors who wear mustaches. He was very grave and solemn. He spoke of blood poisoning. He pondered at great length after examining the wound (?) and then filled out a terrible red ticket, writing the freshman's history out at great length.

Receiving the document, our Freddie started for another room to see a—yes, a doctor! But on the way he looked at the card. It said many things, but one word stood out with

UNITARIANS CALL NEW PASTOR.

Graduate of Harvard and Meadville Invited to Fill Local Pulpit.

The First Unitarian church, which has been without a pastor ever since last spring, when the Rev. Percy Dawson, resigned, has unanimously called Robert S. Loring, of Boston, Mass., to fill the pulpit. Mr. Loring, who comes from a pastorate in Iowa City, Iowa, will begin his duties here October 26. He is a graduate of Harvard University and of Meadville Theological School.

All feeling among the church members, growing out of Dr. Dawson's close affiliations with the local branch of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, has disappeared, and the society, by request, is again holding its meetings in the church parlors. The Young People's Religious union, which disbanded at the time of the trouble, has also been reorganized, and all are anxious to smooth over all difficulties and work together in the interests of the church.

NEW COMET IS MAIN OBJECT OF INTEREST TO OBSERVATORY

Gale's comet, recently discovered by Prof. Gale, of Sidney, Australia, has been the main object of interest to students of the observatory for the past three weeks. Up to two days ago, the comet was visible to the naked eye, and it is now to be seen in the west by the aid of opera-glasses. The moon coming in this week has partially obscured it. The comet has now passed perihelion, and dropping away from both the sun and the earth, will probably never be seen again.

In an early issue of The Michigan Daily it was stated by mistake that Dr. Sebastian Albright, recently appointed to the observatory staff, is acting director in Prof. W. J. Hussey's absence, but this position is held by Assistant Prof. R. H. Curtiss.

the prominence of a giraffe's neck. It was C-U-T.

The procession was then passing a case of knives, spears, thumb screws, and other relics of the barbaric days of the Indian. Freddie did not hesitate. He CUT—and ran. He has not shown up at his room since, and his friend, the upperclassman, is still looking for him.

COMES TO MICHIGAN FROM HONOLULU

Miss Marguerite Ashford Journeys From Mid-Ocean to Attend Father's Alma Mater.

ENROLLED IN LAW DEPARTMENT.

Journeying from Honolulu to the University of Michigan certainly shows a true search for learning, and it happens that the latest seeker after knowledge is a young woman. Furthermore she is the only member of the fair sex who is enrolled in the freshman class of the law department.

Miss Marguerite Ashford, daughter of Clarence Ashford, '80 L, thought enough of her father's Alma Mater to undertake the long and tiresome trip and separate herself from the home ties just to boast of a diploma from Michigan when her class graduates in 1915.

"Father wanted me to come," she said yesterday. "Michigan is well known in Honolulu and many of our best lawyers once called Ann Arbor 'home.' I wouldn't have gone any other place."

When asked how the laws of her native Hawaii differed from this country, Miss Ashford smiled and said she didn't know quite enough law yet, being only a freshman, to really speak on such a subject.

"However, I know that the laws governing property are quite different," she said. "You see, all the old laws hold in my country, except where they conflict with the United States Constitution. That makes some of them rather primeval, but then we get along pretty well."

"Is the language hard? Of course it isn't for me and so I won't answer that. I'll just tell you what my name is in the native dialect. It's Kamehacalani. Isn't that enough?"

Miss Ashford was born and brought up in Honolulu. Her father was at one time attorney-general of the islands.

Coburn Players Tomorrow.

"Electra" the Greek tragedy of Euripides, translated by Gilbert Murray, will be given by the Coburn Players at the Whitney Theater, Monday, October 21.

A novelty of the play is that the scene does not once change during the entire length of the tragedy. The scene of the whole play is laid in the Greek mountains of Argos. The scenic equipment showing the huge boulders, the scraggly cypress trees and the panoramic pastures was extremely realistic. Particular attention has been given the lighting, inasmuch as the radius comes from above as real sunshine. Shadows are cast, which gives the groupings the effect of being wrapped with out-of-door atmosphere. As the result, from the gradual coming of the morning to the set of the sun and darkness at the close of the drama is in poetic harmony with the whole austere beauty of the play.

Mrs. Coburn will be seen in the title role of "Electra" and Mr. Coburn in the part of Orestes, Electra's brother. The costumes are simple, accurate and in the barbaric color of the age.

"Passers By."

Charles Cherry, who this season has become one of Charles Frohman's stars, is a very dear personal friend of Haddon Chambers, whose novel comedy, "Passers-By," was one of last season's biggest hits in New York, where it drew capacity audiences for four months at the Criterion theater. It was at the insistent request of the author that Mr. Frohman sent Mr. Cherry out in this play for his first stellar tour. Mr. Cherry plays the role of Peter Waverton and he is said to do the best work of his long and successful career as a leading actor. Charles Frohman presents Charles Cherry in "Passers-By" at the Whitney Theater, Monday, Oct. 28.

Majestic Bookings.

Manager Lane of the Majestic theater has just received a list of many of the important bookings that will be here in the next few weeks. Aside from the regulation vaudeville shows many of the well known musical comedies in tabloid form presented in the same manner as that of "The Two Admirals" will be offered at the local vaudeville house and the list includes, "The Time, Place and the Girl," with a cast of thirty people, "The Cat and the Fiddle," "Mort Singer's" "Honeymoon Trail," Whitney's "Isle of Spice" and "The Broken Idol," Gus Sun's "School Days," "Paris by Night" with a cast of twenty French pantomimists, "The Devil and Tom Walker," Aramada Grand Opera Company, "The Banjo Friends," and many others.

After three days of musical comedy the Majestic theater will revert to the regulation vaudeville bills tomorrow night. The star feature will be a sensational acrobatic act by the famous Navaro Troupe. Elizabeth Kennedy will present a one-act comedy entitled "Darby and Joan." Prince and Deerie will offer a happy assortment of song and dance numbers. Kelter, a Scotch wire artist, will show something new in this line and a pair of musicians named Hously and Nicholas will play various musical instruments. Next Thursday the chief attraction will be the great Saxon Troupe of European dancers from the Palace theater, London. Matinees will be given every Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 3:00 o'clock.

Schumann-Heink.

Schumann-Heink, the favorite for many years of Ann Arbor audiences, will give a song-recital on Tuesday evening in University Hall as the opening concert of the Choral Union series.

During the two years which have elapsed since her last Ann Arbor appearance she has criss-crossed the country many times in her numerous tours, and has won more laurels than ever if that be possible. She has become the world's best loved singer, not alone because of her wonderful voice and her perfect execution, but because of her distinct humanity. She is a great singer, but more than that she is Schumann-Heink. Were she a school teacher, a nurse, or a farmer's wife, she would still be great; she would still be Schumann-Heink.

The advance sale of reserved seats has been large, but there are still some good places that can be had. The box office in University hall will be open on Tuesday evening at 7:00

SOPHS FAIL TO GET OUT FOR INTERCLASS RELAYS

All the classes have a promising bunch of material out for the fall relays, except the sophomores, who have not had enough men down to Ferry field to form a team. There is plenty of good stuff in the class, and it is hoped that they will show a little more spirit by turning out today or Monday. Any men wishing to try for places on any of the teams, can obtain lockers in the Ferry field club house, by getting an order from Trainer Farrell and presenting it at the athletic office.

Scenes from the Holy Land

Never was there a greater or more realistic transformation than that which has taken place in Massey Hall for Miss Ben-Oliei's wonderful production of the Holy Land.

The whole performance is such as one would not be likely to see more than once in a lifetime, and which for truthfulness, elaboration of detail and information given in a most delightful way could not be surpassed.

The exhibition is appropriately styled "a wonderful, superb life size Bible dictionary." There are hundreds of exhibits illustrating the Bible stories.

MAILING FORCE AT WORK ON INVITATIONS TO ALUMNI

In order to accommodate the thousands of loyal "grads" who flock to Ann Arbor for the big game of the year, Director Bartelme has a large force at work mailing announcements of the Cornell game, on November 16, to 6,000 alumni. This will give them an opportunity to get the pick of seats for the big contest before the public sale of tickets starts. The announcements also give information regarding special trains from Chicago, Detroit, Grand Rapids, and Toledo. Although none of the railroads have announced special excursion rates yet, a large order of tickets from the principal cities will aid the Athletic association in getting low rates from those points.

Being The Modern Adventures of Omar Khayyam, the Great Persian Philosopher, whose poetry on the Joy of Life made his Fame Eternal.

ADVENTURE 8

Omar Gets Trimmed Twice in the Same Place

Into a Barber's Chair he Sinks Kerflop!
"Crank Up," he calls, "I want my Lawn Mowed—Hop!"
The Black Hand quickly Chokes him with a Towel, Blinds him with Lather and starts in to Chop.
A Voice greets Omar, "Want the Manicure?"
He takes one Flash—it's Angel Shape demure!
"Good Morning Glory!" Omar laughs, I guess
"I've got the Habit—again You Trim me?—sure!"

OMAR is the new value in Turkish blend cigarettes. Its price gives no indication of its unusual character.
